

Have a great day with your family and friends, knowing that through your support, families all over D.C. will be giving thanks for the meal they are able to share because of a mother who has a job.

"If a staff person from my prenatal care provider had not referred me, I would never have known that there are resources available for pregnant workers to assert their legal rights."

A mother who was referred to First Shift by her medical provider

In 2019, First Shift reached 500 mothers through its Know Your Rights presentations and trained 340 D.C. medical providers about their pregnant patients' rights at work.

Thank you for your support!
